Malicious Tales Spread By Agitators

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Willie Bioff, business agent for the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, out of jail at length on a conviction of pandering, is now in custody again. This time the Federal Government means to put Bioff in the Al Capone class on a charge of defrauding the Revenue Collector of $84,336 in income taxes. There is also a charge pending in the Federal Court of New York that Bioff extorted $550,000 from various Hollywood movie firms on threat of calling strikes if they did not cough up.

The news report states that Bioff, accompanied by his attorney, appeared in the Federal Commissioners office wearing a "natty blue suit and straw hat." This loathsome sewer rat, an abomination and stench in the nostrils to all decent Americans, who at one time lived on the earnings of prostitutes, and now lives off the earnings of thousands of honest and gullible workers, must, indeed, dress in a "natty suit," to cover the noisome corruption of his criminality.

In reading of the fortune amassed by this industrious panderer through the exploitation of both workers and employers, one is amazed to find a court that postpones his trial on defrauding the government of income taxes on the plea that his participation in movie labor relations is "vital to defense." It will be recalled that Harry Bridges' hearing was adjourned for over a week, in order that he might participate in a CIO convention in Los Angeles. In the name of all the patriots who have died to make this country free, in the name of great Americans, whose patriotism shines through the ages, in the name of the great Jehovah, what has this human parasite to do with out national defense? How can any court consent to a plea that our national defense rests in the remotest degree on a man whose character "stinks and shines like a dead mackerel in the moonlight?" Must we assume that the courts, some of them at any rate, complacently accommodate justice to a new deal in our democracy which enthrones in leadership of thousands of workers, this offscouring, this offal of human kind?

We confess, that it is the rise and ascendancy of this foul brood from the national gutter, an ascendancy that sometimes dominates our courts, that calls for a hearing on whether or not to deport such a man as Bridges, an escendancy evidenced in the kowtowing of cheap crowds to common ex-convicts "who have made good," an ascendancy that blairs from the headines of great dailies, that make a sporting event of whether not such and such a sorry rascal eludes justice, that fill us with foreboding for the future of the United States.

When a panderer is chosen to lead labor, its cause should, among decent folks, be appraised as bankrupt.

This tenderness accorded rogues who thrive and grow rich on a filthy sentimentality nourished in the bunkum and palaver of demagogues, may pass if once we are really engaged in war. When war comes, as now seems certain, it will, we hope and believe, that the old American traditions, the spirit of our forefathers, will visit and counsel us to rid ourselves of false prophets, communists, nazis, peace-at-any-price punks, scamps and rogues either among employers or labor organizations, whether they are Insulls or Willie Bioffs. These must first of all be rushed to con-

AFL Publication Falsely Presents Picture of Labor Dispute In This County

WHEN THE CIO PUBLICATIONS SCREAMED OF "SLAVE CONDITIONS" AND "HITLERISM" IN THE NEVADA COUNTY MINING INDUSTRY A COUPLE OF YEARS BACK, CITIZENS OF THIS COUNTY THOUGHT THE PEAK HAD BEEN REACHED IN DELIBERATE AND BAREFACED LIES.

BUT EVEN THOSE PRINTED OUTBURSTS WERE SURPASSED BY THE AFL'S AMERICAN LABOR CITIZEN, WHICH CAME OFF THE PRESS LAST WEEK AND WAS GIVEN WIDE DISTRIBUTION IN GRASS VALLEY AND VICINITY.

It's not this paper's policy to enter into disputes with other publications but under the circumstances we believe the Mine Workers Protective League and the mine owners, who ar subjected to unwarranted abuse in the AFL paper's articles, should be defended.

Most of the abuse was leveled at the Mine Workers Protective League and the only logical conclusion for the tirades was the anger of the AFL because it could not break the legal and binding contract the MWPL holds with the mines in Nevada County.

President Olney Donnelly is called a "dictator" and that he alone prevented an immediate settlement of the recent labor difficulties by standing firm on the league's contract with the companies.

Nothing is mentioned, however, that but two months previously, in a secret election conducted by the Nevada County clerk, employees of three of the mines involved in the recent strike voted overwhelmingly for the MWPL as their bargaining agent. The AFL at that time received only a few votes.

The article written by M. S. Vidaver, editor of the American Labor Citizen, goes on to say:

"They rebelled. They called in AFL Organizer Charles Daley. They formed an AFL union, got a charter and went on strike." How far from the truth! What misstatements of fact! Everyone knows what happened. Three hundred men decided to make 1100 men idle, acting independently of their lawful bergaining agent, the Mine Workers Protective League. Those 300 men voted to strike before the AFL was thought about. Like a vulture swooping to its prey, Organizer Daley, seeing thousands of dollars in sight if he played his cards right, stepped into the picture and organized the AFL Gold Miners Union. It was more than a week after the strike started before the charter was granted.

And the article continues with this:

"And another strange feature is that this same Donnelly person, who bought a swell Packard car and bought and paid for a nice home in a very short time constituted himself as a picket to parade in front of the AFL headquarters."

Donnelly's statement to that charge is that "it is a slanderous lie" and we, as well as thousands of others in Nevada County, would rather believe Donnelly, who has worked in the mines in this county nearly all his life, than an outside labor agitator, who has no regard for the truth and whose only interest in the county is to keep his organization alive to eke out a few additional dollars from the gullible.

Vidaver rants and raves about the "phony" league and the "hard-handed" miners who "are fighting for a pittance, the dividing line between respectability and poverty."

Nothing is mentioned, however, comparing the wages of the miners in the Grass Valley-Nevada City district to the wages received in other mining camps. It was such labor agitators as Daley who stirred up trouble in Jackson, Amador County. What was the final result? Top wages for miners dropped to something like $4.50 per day. In the meanwhile throughout the years miners in this area received $5.76 per day and are now getting $6.24.

To top everything off, Vidaver in a separate article, had this to say:

"Commissioner Omar Hoskins of the conciliation service was called in by the AFL to attempt a settlement.

"The phony league did all in its power to circumvent a successful conclusion.

"But that isn't the point I'm driving at. It's the technique that is all revealing.

"Hoskins spent three feverish days in Grass Valley, day and night, doing his utmost, meeting with the strikers and meeting with the operators, to effect an immediate settlement of the dispute.

"Hoskins is a clean, upright, conscientious, intelligent worker. He is a young man, who is held in high esteem by both employers and labor. That he is a credit to the service he represents can be attested to by every person with whom he has had contact.

"And yet, after two days and nights of frantic endeavor by Hoskins (the mine operators will verify that fact) an ugly

Parade, Cemetery Rites to Highlight Memorial Service

THREE VETERANS ORGANIZATIONS WILL PARTICIPATE IN PROGRAM PAYING HOMAGE TO DEPARTED

Memorial Day—the day set aside for paying respect to the dead—will be fittingly observed here tomorrow.

A parade will be formed at the top of Broad Street at 10 a. m. tomorrow and the marching units, after parading through town, will continue up Boulder Street to the Pine Grove Cemetery, where a Memorial Day program will be given.

The three veterans organizations of the county, Banner Mountain Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Hague-Thomas-Hegarty Post of the American Legion, and Canadian Legion, are cooperating in the Memorial Day rites. Each organization will have its colors in the parade. The veterans will march, led by the bands of the Nevada City and Grass Valley High Schools. The axiliary members of the veterans groups will be in the line of march, followed by schoolchildren, who will carry flowers for the graves.

Boy Scouts are asked to don their uniforms for participation in the parade.

At the Pine Grove Cemetery, Rev. H. Thomas Pateman of the local Episcopal Church will give the benediction. The ritualistic rites of the VFW will be rendered. Rev. David Ralston of the Methodist Church is to be the speaker.

Following the services at Pine Grove, the veterans organizations will go to the Catholic Cemetery, where similar services will be held with Father Patrick O'Reilly speaking.

In the event of rain, the Memorial services will be held at the Elementary School Auditorium.

Commander Howard C. Bennetts of Banner Mountain Post, is the general chairman of the committee arranging for the Memorial Day services. Final plans for the rites were completed at the meeting of the VFW here last night.

In preparation for Memorial Day, most of the graves at the local cemeteries have been cleaned. Many former residents, who have relatives buried here, are beginning to arrive her to pay homage to the departed.

All local stores will be closed tomorrow. The Alpha Store and possibly others will also remain closed Saturday, giving their employees a three day holiday.

Jobs Held Open Until Saturday For I-M Workers

An announcement was made by the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation today that until the close of business Saturday suitable employment is being held available for Idaho-Maryland employees who were working or on leave, on April 30th, and who have not subsequently terminated their employment.

"Beginning June 1st, 1941, all former employees will be required to report to the employment office before resuming active duty.

"Due to the curtailment of certain work because of the increased wage scale and other changed conditions, some former employees cannot be returned to exactly the same jobs they held before May 1st, 1941."

Gluyas Richards, Nevada City Native Dies In Auburn

Gluyas Richards, 60, native of this city, and brother of Mrs. E. M. Rector and Mrs. Carl Libbey of Nevada City, died suddenly at his home in Auburn last night.

Mrs. Libbey and Mrs. Rector are in Auburn with other members of the family. It is probable funeral services will be held in that city.

Richards worked for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for years following his education in local schools. He was transferred from the drum powerhouse to the powerhouse near Auburn years ago.

Besides his two sisters here, Richards leaves his wife and two children and a brother, Gilbert Richards of Sacramento. Tom Richards of North Pine Street, this city, is an uncle.

Clampers Hear Hewgag For Gathering In Sierra County

Adam Lee Moore, clampatriarch of he Ancient Order of E Clampus Vitus, has sounded the hewgag for a meeting of Clampers in Downieville tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The meeting will mark the initiation of new members into the order, founded in the gold rush days and revived in recent years after a long period of inactivity.

Clampatriarch Moore is a member of the first order of Clampers.

"1—Would you give a sucker an even break?

"2—Will you temper the Sword of Justice with mercy?

"3—Will you ever respect the authority under the silk hat?"

Candidates must certify they will present the chapter within due time some relic of the "early days and robust ancestors" and to agree in event of emergency, on request of the noble humbug, to serve the cause of humanity.

The initiation will take place Saturday following a parade, which will be participated in by Clampers as well as the Nevada County Sheriff's Mounted Posse, led by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen.

Among Clamper dignitaries who will be here for the celebration are Lee L. Stopple, president of E Clampus Vitus, Inc. and Ronald Olsen, noble grand humbug of Yerba Buena Chapter.

Downieville is being decorated for the occasion and the townspeople will revert back to the atmosphere of '49, donning costumes typical of the period.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION OF UNLIMITED EMERGENCY

Following is the text of a presidential proclamation of an unlimited national emergency:

Whereas on September 8. 1939, because of the outbreak of war in Europe a proclamation was issued declaring a limited national emergency and directing measures "for the purpose of strengthening our national defense within the limits of peacetime authorizations."

Whereas a succession of events makes plain that the objectives of the Axis belligerents in such war are not confined to those avowed at its commencement, but include overthrow throughout the world of existing democratic order, and a world-wide domination of peoples and economies through the destruction of all resistance on land and sea and in the air, and

Whereas indifference on the part of the United States to the increasing menace would be perilous, and common prudence requires that for the security of this nation and of this hemisphere we should pass from peacetime authorizations of military strength to such a basis as will enable us to cope instantly and decisively with any attempt at hostile encirclement of this hemisphere, or the establishment of any base for aggression against it, as well as to repel the threat of predatory incursion by foreign agents into our territory and society,

Now. therefore, I. Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, do proclaim that an unlimited national emergency confronts this country, which requires that its military, naval, air and civilian defenses be put on the basis of readiness to repel any and all acts or threats of aggression directed toward any part of the western hemisphere.

I call upon all the loyal citizens engaged in production for defense to give precedence to the needs of the nation, to the end that a system of government that makes private enterprise possible may survive.

I call upon our loyal workmen as well as employers to merge their lesser differences in the larger effort to insure the survival of the only kind of government which recognizes the rights of labor or of capital.

I call upon loyal state and local leaders and officials to cooperate with the civilian defense agencies of the United States to assure our internal security against foreign directed subversion and to put every community in order for maximum productive effort and minimum of waste and unnecessary frictions.

I call upon all loyal citizens to place the nation's needs first in mind and in action to the end that we may mobilize and have ready for instant defense use all of the physical powers, all of the moral strength and all of the material resources of this nation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-seventh day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-one, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-fifth.

By the president:

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Cordell Hull, Secretary of State.

We Shoulder Arms

Word comes out of Washington that draftees are to be taken, from next month on, at the rate of 60,000 a month and by the end of the year the Army is expected to number more than 2,000,000 men!

Word also comes from the national capital that the new tax program is nearing completion—and business and industry and individual taxpayers will soon be told what burdens they must bear to equip and maintain that Army.

Now if some one in Washington will just send out word to strike leaders and strike agitators that this is no time to be throwing monkey wrenches into Uncle Sam's defense machinery, perhaps we can all shoulder our fair share of the load and go about the buiness of making this country ready for any emergency.

Our American boys are shouldering arms with good spirit and little grumbling about what it may cost them. The least the rest of us can do is to get in step with the procession.

No Toll Roads, Please!

There was once a time—and recently enough for many of us to remember—when toll roads were the rule, not the exception. "Permission to Pass, Subject to Toll" was a road sign that ruined more Sunday dispositions than "Detour" and "Private Beach" do now.

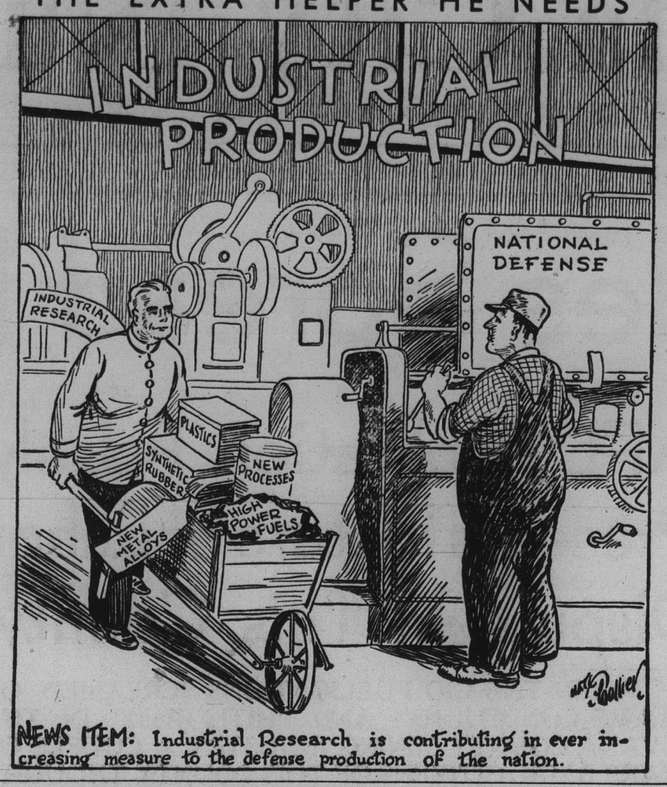

It took loud public protest, years of diligent labor and quite a stack of tax dollars finally to erase those private blockades to travel.

Today it is almost inconceivable that anyone would seriously suggest a revival of the toll road—but somebody has. A plan for high speed highways, built in sections, by districts, to be financed with revenue bonds and liquidated by road tolls, is one of the bills now being considered by our representatives at Sacramento. In a frame of mind that has permitted few governmental extravagances to edge by the economy axe, the legislators already have ruled out nearly a score of other revenue bond projects which would have added heavily to the public debt. In view of increasing tax returns, they are to be congratulated for their prudence in sticking to the economy role, for recognizing that there are plenty of uses for tax money—as the defense program is beginning to disclose.

With only a few weeks left in which to finish this session's legislative activities, it is to be hoped there will be no last minute spending spree on any provocation whatsoever. And that toll roads—that phenomenon of the past that turned a cross country drive into an irritating obstacle race—will be left to an era as out-moded as the motorist's goggles and linen duster.—Contributed.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder as we blandly count
The numerous pleasures of our days,
And in our own beloved land
Securely walk in Freedom's ways,
At the sad fate of other souls
In ravished lands across the sea,
Who speak and act and even think
By dictatorial decree.

I wonder if any citizen of this free land failed to appreciate our way of life during the hours of I am an American Day. Probably not, but did he try to imagine what life would mean to him and his, were they forced to live under the inhibiting restrictions imposed upon the unhappy subjects of tyrannical dictatorships.

Such fancies are most illuminating. Imagine a fine, upstanding, free born American, being told what to eat, drink and wear, see, hear and read, how to walk, talk and think and so on ad infinitum—ad nauseum, too. Still, millions of intelligent human beings are living after this fashion, and some of them seem to like it.

Stranger still, there are those in America who seemingly prefer such a manner of life to our own. Of course, if a man believes himself incapable of making his own decisions, he might find comfort in a country where they were made for him; it is a shame that he cannot be transported to the land of his heart's desire, where decisions cease to worry and the weary brain's at rest.

I wonder at the ease with which we turn our thoughts from the ugliness of war to the loveliness of home grown gardens and flower shows. It is well for us that this is so, for flowers like music, have charms to soothe jangled nerves and calm unquiet thoughts. Every one should plant a garden, every one should strive to make each annual flower show better and brighter than those of any preceeding year.

To cherish the love and appreciation of beauty both in art and in nature, to lead others to understand and enjoy the intrinsic values that lie about them in forest, field or tiny garden, to so attune our minds that we may catch the message in the song of a bird or the breath of a flower—why, these may be the only contributions some of us can make to the task of winning the world back to the paths of peace, comfort and beauty.

I wonder if Lindberg will be known in after years as the man who flew high and hit low, Hitler as the dictator who had great power but didn't know how to use it, Mussolini as the person who played fly to Hitler's spider, Japan as the little nation that sold herself for a song she couldn't sing and John Lewis, as the labor leader, who by the substitution of one word for another, caused an old slogan to read, "Strike at your altars and your sires, God and your native land."

Uncle Silas says: "It's all right to round up all the undesirable aliens, in this country, but judging from the Bridges case, how long will it take to deport them?"

centration camps for the duration. if we hope to win. For war's searing flames reaching into every home, and war's sacrifices stripping this nation of its degenerate fat, which rolls up to obscure spiritual hearing and vision, may restore to us some of that greatness that corrupt politics and venal government have cankered. War as nothing else can, if it comes, will give us a purge, willy nilly, and perhaps that is the only way this nation can be purged and restored to national health.

Beautifully Illustrated Local Chamber Folder Appropriately Advertises Recreational, Mining, Scenic And Other Resources Of This District

The long felt need of a pamphlet to advertise the recreational and scenic advantages, gold mining, historic legend, tourist lure and homes and gardens of Nevada City, has been realized with the publication of a folder by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone who has seen the folders have expressed admiration for its design and presentation. The folder is profusely illustrated with beautiful pictures.

One of the most attractive features of the folder is a cartoon map, drawn by Miss Madeline Himes. All spots of interest in this city and vicinity are shown on the map.

On the front page of the folder is a picture of the Tahoe Ukiah Highway near here with the words: "Come To Nevada City, California, Treasure Chest of the West."

The printed matter under the pictures follows:

HISTORIC LEGEND

Born in '49, the boom town of "Caldwell's Upper Store" soon became "Nevada," third largest city in California. Here long tom, ground sluicing and hydraulic mining came into being, and rich quartz gold discoveries, brought world fame. Part of Nevada City's colorful history are Senator William Stewart, of Comstock fame; opera's Emma Nevada; Felix Gillet, peer of nurserymen; Tom Bell the bandit. In our pioneer cemtery rest Henry Meredith, Indian fighter, and Alphonse Sutter, son of General Sutter. True to gold rush tradition, Nevada City has had an eventful history of stirring gold discoveries, disastrous fires, floods, famine and rebirth; but unlike many gold camps, it has maintained a steady industry throughout the years and has emerged a thoroughly modern and progressive city, the county seat of Nevada County.

GOLD MINING

Since the beginning of gold mining here in 1850 the continuous production of gold from mines of this district has amounted to more than $150,000,000. The invention of the hydraulic nozzle in 1852 made possible profitable mining of immense deposits of gold bearing gravel. Millions of dollars were produced by hydraulicking until this type of mining was forbidden in 1884. The recently completed Narrows Dam on the Yuba River makes possible resumption of hydraulic mining in Nevada County. Among notable lode mines here are the North Star with a depth of over 10,600 feet, deepest in the world; Empire with over 100 miles of workings and its famous car mules, stabled and spending their entire working lives underground; Idaho Maryland, second largest gold producing mine in the United States; Lava Cap, primarily a gold producing mine, unique in being the largest silver producing mine in California.

RECREATION

Nevada City is the hub of a large natural recreational area. Fishermen, hunters, skiers and other sportsmen find here a paradise close at hand. Nearby is the South Yuba River, one of the state's finest large trout streams. A short way up Bear Valley is the lake country, where in Bowman, Fuller and Fordyce Lakes the wiley trout can be lured from shore or boat. A twenty minute drive up Highway 20 brings the skier to cleared slopes and an upski where there is snow for winter sports from December to April. An hour from town is Donner Summit, center of the nation's best skiing terrain. The surrounding mountains abound with game. Deer, quail, pheasants and doves are found on the very outskirts of town. Nearby Lake Vera is the site of two Girls' Summer camps and other camping and picnicking spots are found within a few miles.

TOURIST LURE

Nestled in the lower Sierra, Nevada City is the center of one of the most scenic regions of the Mother Lode. Here are found natural beauties of mountains, trees and streams and interesting remnants of early California. The old firehouse, assay offices, iron shuttered brick buildings, overhanging balconies on the narrow streets and the old residence on Prospect Hill known as the "Castle" are unrivaled examples of early mining town construction. Worth a long trip to see are the acres of fragrant yellow Scotch broom, flowering Dogwood, Redbud and Manzanita in the spring; the flaming foliage of poplars, elms, oaks and the maples in October; picturesque Chinatown; and nearby hydraulic diggings where millions of tons of earth have been washed away. Fine homes with expansive gardens and modern public buildings make an interesting contrast of the new and the old.

HOMES AND GARDENS

Nevada City homes are attractive by reason of their beautiful gardens. Favorable climatic conditions, good soil combined with ample water supply at reasonable flat rates are factors encouraging future residence. Nevada Cit is surrounded by green slopes covered with magnificent pine, fir, cedar and stately oak. Flowering dogwood, the aromatic bay tree and fragrant azalea are found in ravines and along streams of crsytal clear water. Landscape architects delight in the great variety of stone available within easy reach for rock gardens. Among flowers grown here with unusual success are the wide varieties of the rose, French lilac, and herbaceous peony in choice blooms of many hues and immense size not excelled anywhere. The superior quality of fruits, berries and home-grown vegetables is legend.

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN THURMAN AT THE STATE CAPITOL

The most important measure passed by the lower house last week was the Garland Bill No. 2620, a measure designed to cut California taxes by more than $35,000,000 during the 1941-43 biennium. The measure passed the assembly by a vote of 53 to 26. It now goes to the senate where it may face some opposition.

The Garland measure would reduce the sales and use tax revenue by $18,600,000; the motor transportation tax collections $450,000, bank and corporation levies $2,350,000, personal income tax $2,100,000 and the liquor and wine excise taxes $1,700,000.

The bill would also reduce the sales tax from 3 per cent to two and one half per cent on July 1, 1942 and would be effective until June 30, 1944. The other levies would be cut by a "credit of 15 per cent," with the alcoholic beverage and motor transportation taxes effective on July 1, 1942 and the others on December 31st of the same year.

Speaker Gordon Garland presented his bill from the floor of the assembly. He said in part:

"The people of California now are faced with the most staggering tax load in their history. We must give them relief if they are to carry the increasing burden of federal taxation resulting from the defense activities.

"I can't understand how anyone could oppose this bill. The state income now is 23 per cent above the estimate in the governor's budget and it will continue to increase. Even if it doesn't our deficit can be wiped out and we can have a surplus in spite of these tax cuts."

The budget bill which passed the senate last week is now before a free conference committee composed of three members of each house when the lower house refused to concur in senate amendments. As was predicted in last week's column, the senate finance committee added $250,000 to the state forest division's budget to take care of increased wages for fire fighting crews.

A bill which would have changed the present grand jury system in the state was defeated in the assembly last week with most of the rural legislators voting against the measure. The bill proposed that members of trial juries would be selected for grand jury service.

The collective bargaining measure to make collective bargaining agreements between employers and organized labor enforceable at law and equity in the courts, passed the lower house with a vote of 69 to 1. Prior to the passage of the measure it was amended by the house.

Relief and reapportionment still remain to be settled by the legislature.

Inasmuch as the legislators pay stopped last week it is likely that the business of both houses may be completed on or about June 10th.

Plans Started For Fire Guard School

Plans are being made by Assistant Forest Supervisor Ernest L. Baxter for the annual fire guard school for Tahoe National Forest fire suppression and control employees.

The training school this year will be at the Miller Ranch, nine miles east of Camptonville on the Henness Pass Road on June 18th, 19th, and 20th.

Congratulations ... TO ... Nevada City

The Gault Bridge is rebuilt, wider and stronger, and the Main Street bridge is being rebuilt. Gradually Nevada City and Grass Valley are being modernized to meet the traffic conditions of Today. And speaking of the new facilities for taking care of traffic—passengers and freight coming to, and going from our two busy towns—there's the new Union Terminal Company's depot in Grass Valley.

Definitely spic-and-span—and delightfully cool, is the modern new busy depot recently opened by the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad Company in the Union Terminal Company's steel and concrete building on Bank Street.

In this depot no detail of convenience has been overlooked. You will find a complete travel service department offering fares, rates and general information, to any point where transportation reaches, whether it be by land, sea or air.

You will also find this new depot particularly friendly and hospitable not only as a point for travel but accommodating in its appointments as a place for you to stop and "catch your breath," to enjoy a refrigerated drink of water or avail yourself of modern rest room facilities.

Drop in—anytime. Perhaps there is some question regarding our vacation travel plans you would like answered. Come in—that's our business!

BOMB WORRIED BRITISH STORK GETS U. S. HELP

WASHINGTON, May 29.—American women are helping the stork make his rounds under war time conditions in Great Britain, Mrs. Dwight Davis, national director of Volunteer Special Services of the American Red Cross, disclosed here.

Mrs. Davis reported that volunteers working in twenty Red Cross chapters are producing sufficient quantities of a newly designed obstetrical kit to aid in approximately 5000 baby deliveries of an emergency character.

The first of the kits to go over, she said, will be taken personally by Miss Gertrude Madley, R. N., of Detroit, Michigan, who sails shortly to take up her duties as chief nurse of the American Red Cross-Harvard Hospital now under construction in southwestern England.

The kit is based on a design by the U. S. Children's Bureau, with certain modifications suggested by the Frontier Nursing Service, which furnishes nursing service to the people of Kentucy's mountain regions. They use midwives trained in the Queen's Nursing Service of Great Britain.

Each kit consists of three sections, the first of which is a permanent unit retained by the doctor or midwife, consisting of an operating gown, operating cap, leggings, mask, rubber gloves, sheets, hand towels and hospital bed shirt. For each one of these units sent abroad ten of the other two sections will be shipped.

The second section is a layette for the new baby, complete in every detail. The other section consists of surgical dressings and other items used in the individual delivery or left with the mother for her added comfort.

GAS SALES HIT PEAK IN APRIL

SACRAMENTO, May 29.—An all time record for gasoline consumption in California was established during the month of April, 1941, the State Board of Equalization reported today.

The taxable gallonage of gasoline consumed during the month amounted to 181,752,910 on which levies totaling $5,452,587,33 were assessed.

This tax total represented a gain of 16.18 per cent over the same month of the previous year. It not only was the best month from the standpoint of the gasoline tax, but the percentage of increase also was the highest since the levy was instituted in 1923.

On only two other occasions—in June, 1940, and March, 1941, has the income from the gasoline tax surpassed the $5,000,000 mark, according to board records.

Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value only to its scarcity. It becomes cheap as it becomes vulgar, and will no longer raise expectation or animate enterprise. Samuel Johnson.

Nevada County Needy Aged Get $19,286 in April

California tops every state in the Union in numbers of persons receiving aid to the needy aged, in total payments to needy aged persons, and in average payments per person per month, California Taxpayers association declared today following its study of population and aid to persons over 65 years of age.

In April, 1941, 154,527 persons received aid to needy aged in California and a total of 35,844,102 in aid was extended to them. In Nevada County during April 496 persons were receiving such aid and $19,288 was paid to them, the association stated.

In California more than one out of every four—275 out of every 1,000—persons 65 years of age and over received aid to the needy aged last December, the association found. This is considerably higher than the average for the United States, which is 231 per 1,000. The average aid extended in California of $37.87 was not only the highest in the nation, but was almost twice the United States average of $20.24. During the same month, New York paid only $24.91, to an average of 132 persons per 1,000 persons over 65; Pennsylvania paid $21.95 to an average of 148 per 1,000; Illinois, $22.05 and Ohio $22.99 to an average of 251 each per 1,000 over 65.

ENGINEERS WHO DESIGN CARS ARE PRAISED

FLINT, Mich., May 29. — High tribute is paid to members of the engineering fraternity and a bright future predicted for the automobile industry by Harlow H. Curtice, president and general manager of the Buick Division of General Motors, in an editorial in the May issue of the Buick Magazine.

In commenting on the important part designing negineers, test crews and production experts play in the development on the automobile, the editorial said, "many months before the 1941 models were made available these men were busy planning new refinements, proving out ideas, setting up and putting into operation new and finer methods of production.

"And if in the future we have to do without certain materials the industry has come to count on and no longer have access to new tools and machinery necessary for new refinements, even as factories and skills are diverted from car production to more pressing needs, the real well-spring of automobile progress will not entirely dry up.

"For that well-spring is the inventiveness of the American mind.

"The thinking from which has sprung all the vast growth and development of the modern automobile will not cease.

"New ideas will continue to bud and to blossom, and even though there be delay in incorporating them into new models as rapidly and as regularly as has been the case in the past, the future will find the American automobile blooming with them."

POLITICAL PARADE

BY CLEM WHITAKER

There are many ways of sabotaging the national defense program besides blowing up munitions plants, putting emery dust in the wheels of industry, or selling government secrets to Hitler's stool-pigeons.

These are simply some of the most headlined and more obvious methods used by paid saboteurs, And dangerous as they are, the nation can cope with them, if other, more insidious forms of sabotage are first eliminated.

The United States of America, in this writer's opinion, is being sabotaged often unintentionally, but nonetheless disastrously, by men highly placed in positions of public and private trust, who pride themselves on their Americanism — by blustering public officials, who make war on the very liberties at home they seek to preserve abroad; by crepe hanging business men, who profess to believe that America is plunging into totalitarianism, but do nothing about it, and by hard-headed, belligerent labor leaders who deliberately paralyze production, when not to produce amounts to betrayal of their Flag and country.

Distrust, disunity and defeatism are the three types of sabotage now prevalent which are most dangerous to America. The government distrust business and industry—and business and industry distrust the government.

The worker distrusts his employer—and the employer distrusts his worker. Class is pitted against class—in a country which used to believe in unity and democracy. And out of this maelstrom comes defeatism—a questioning of whether we are the country we used to be; a dejected feeling that we have been swept away from our moorings.

If this nation declared war tomorrow, probably the confusion, distrust and defeatism would all be swept away in a sudden upwelling of old fashioned American patriotism. But must America go to war to stand shoulder to sholder, as it once stood, in common defense of the principles of a free people?

Labor came through World War No. 1 without losing any of the rights and priviliges it had previously gained. President Wilson, when World War No. 1 ended, returned to Congress and the people the extraordinary powers he had been given during the emergency. The system of private enterprise didn't end and the Statue of Liberty didn't fall.

This is a time for mutual assurances. President Roosevelt, perhaps should reassure the American people that government will slip back into its accustomed place when the emergency is over. And he should crack down on any of his cabinet members who have other intentions. Business and labor should make a covenant—and stick with it.

Once it was said: "United we stand; divided we fall!" It's still true.

Think not those faithful who praise all thy words and actions, but those who kindly reprove thy faults.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

GOOD EVER OBTAINABLE

Because you lack a noble and successful past, is no real reason why you should lack a noble and successful future.—Thomas Drier.

The law of nature is, Do the thing, and you shall have the power, but they who do not the thing have not the power.—Emerson.

Faith in divine Love supplies the ever present help and now, and gives the power to "act in the living present."—Mary Baker Eddy.

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another.—Richter.

The present is never our object; the past and the present we use as means; the future only is our end. Thus, we never live, we only hope to live.—Pascal.

Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.—New Testament: James 1.17.

ELECTRIC RANGE is a joy to use

You will like an electric range for its dependability. It never lets you down. Give it a cooking job to do, set a few dials and you can feel free to let electricity do the job of cooking you have assigned to it. The millions of women who now cook electrically know the joy of having an electric range to do their cooking, especially during hot summer days. There is no need to stand over a hot stove. No need to stand by for oven peeking or basting or fussing whatsoever. It is simply a matter of "set it and forget it" as far as cooking with an automatic electric range is concerned.

Meals on time every time—you can rely on your electric range to do that whether you live in town or country. Why not know the enjoyment of this modern, simplified method of cooking right now? Electric Range prices are extremely low. Operating cost is less than you would imagine. You will be happier when you "go happy and go electric" in your kitchen. Any electric range you may select can of course be bought on easy budget terms.

Malicious Lies Spread

rumor was started by low level league loyalists that spread over the small community like wildfire.

"The talk was something like this: 'Hoskins and the AFL union leaders are in cahoots with the bosses. Hoskins was hiding out in Maryville on a drunk.'

"No wonder that the hard working miners have repudiated the odius MWPL. They are in enough difficulty because of the anti-worker policy of the league without pulling its filthy cloak of malicious scandal-mongering over their shoulders".

It's funny no one in this county knew anything of the "ugly rumors" prior to the arrival here of the hundreds of copies of the American Labor Citizen.

Everyone agrees Hoskins is a fine man who had done his level best to settle the dispute. "He is one of the finest men I have ever met," Donnelly said, "and one of th squarest." But why should not the league stand up for its rights instead of giving in to the AFL group, which spells nothing but trouble for the district?

IF VIDAVER'S ARTICLES ARE A SAMPLE OF THE REPORTING IN LABOR JOURNALS, THE LABORING MAN IS TO BE PITIED. HE IS BEING FED HATEFUL PROPAGANDA NOT ONLY AGAINST EMPLOYERS, BUT PROPAGANDA TENDING TO INCITE TROUBLE BETWEEN THE WORKING MAN AND HIS BOSSES. ALSO TO STIR UP STRIFE BETWEEN LABOR UNIONS.

WE HOPE SOME DAY TO SEE THE LABOR PAPERS OPERATED ON THE SAME FAIR-MINDED BASIS AS THE DAILY PRESS BUT AS LONG AS AGITATORS SUCH AS VIDAVER ARE CONNECTED WITH LABOR SUCH A HOPE IS IMPOSSIBLE.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BPWC HEARS MRS. CHAN SPEAK ON STATUS OF CHINESE WOMEN

The first dinner meeting of the Nevada City Business and Professional Womens Club with the new president, Ethel White, presiding was held at the National Hotel last evening.

Ruth Berggren and Hilda Risley, chairmen for the evening led the group in community singing. The B. P. W. C. choral group sang two selections.

Mrs. Chan of Grass Valley spoke on Chinese women in Business, Profession and Industry.

She said before China became a republic women had no rights at all. Since the current war broke out their status was raised over night and even the lowest Chinese woman is taught to read and write. The women fight along with the soldiers and smuggle food and arms to them whenever possible. Mrs. Chan said the bravery of the Chinese women raises the moral of the men.

Conditions in China are still very bad, but women are beginning to work in stores. There are a few stenographers and their pay is $15 a month, if they know how to type and can speak both Chinese and Englist.

Manufacturing of materials is still done on hand looms and the pay is 20c per day. There is no compensation or protection for people that work in industry in China.

In keeping with the excellent and interesting talk about conditions in China, Genevieve Elliott sang, in Chinese costume, Chinese Lullaby.

Plans for a card party to benefit children in need of dental care were discussed, and Helen Grant, health chairman was put in charge of details.

The publicity committee with Ruth Bonivert chairman, assisted by Dorothy Waggoner and Dorothy Thomas were named chairmen for the June meeting.
